Knights urged to give blood

We are asking brother Knights nationwide to consider donating blood given the nationwide shortage that has accompanied the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Knights of Columbus pioneered national blood drives in the 1930s, and giving blood remains an important element of charitable service for many Knights.

During the current pandemic, blood donations are vitally needed, particularly from those with the O-negative blood type. READ MORE

Reflection: Strong in the faith in difficult times

In times of trial, Knights are called to stay rooted in the truth of the faith.

This reflection is on the first pillar of "Remaining rooted in the truth of the faith."

The Gospel for this Fifth Sunday of Lent recounts the well-known story of the raising of Lazarus from the dead. The story speaks to the heart of our first pillar as Knights in a moment of trial: A Knight remains rooted in the truth of the faith.

Confidence in the Resurrection of Jesus is central to everything we believe as followers of Our Lord. Without this core conviction, nothing we believe as Christians makes sense. Every Sunday we profess in the Creed that we believe in the Resurrection – a belief which changes everything. READ MORE

How to live like St. Joseph, even during isolation

K of C's Into the Breach video series can help us live more like the foster father of Jesus

As we face the trials of the COVID-19 pandemic, and as those with families work to ensure their safety, there's no better time to look to St. Joseph, the foster father of Jesus.

St. Joseph led the Holy Family during many trials and there is much to learn from him. As their protector, provider and guide, he is the model of masculinity and for holiness for Catholics.

Here are some key takeaways from our new video series, Into the Breach, that can help us model our lives more like St. Joseph, even during quarantine.

Looking to Father McGivney during the COVID-19 pandemic

As many of us continue to work remotely, it is good to know that the founder of the Knights of Columbus remains with us in spirit as we work from home.

This Sunday, March 29, marks Founder's Day, when we remember the date in 1882 that the Connecticut legislature approved the charter of the newly formed Knights of Columbus. Though we are not able to join together in person to celebrate, we can be united in thought and prayer as we honor the Order's founder.

This may be a good time to consider what message Father McGivney has for us, who carry on the work he began 138 years ago, when he gathered a group of Catholic men in the basement of St. Mary's Church in New Haven. Let's look briefly at four aspects of Father McGivney's life and legacy. READ MORE

Knights organize blessing from sky during COVID-19

Knights from Connecticut and New Jersey fly over the Diocese of Bridgeport to bless community during the coronavirus pandemic.

Knights of Columbus members took to the skies to pray for the protection and healing of those in the Diocese of Bridgeport during the coronavirus pandemic.

The idea was hatched by Tom Monks, a member of St. Therese Lisieux Council 8013 in Trumbull, Conn., after his daughter Lydia showed him a video of an Italian priest piloting over Italy with the Blessed Sacrament.

He approached Father Brian Gannon, the pastor of St. Theresa Church and member of Council 8013, who loved the idea.

"Having seen the wonderful video of an Italian priest flying with Our Lady of Fatima and the Blessed Sacrament over Italy for divine intervention there, we knew this was from the Holy Spirit," Father Gannon wrote on the parish's website.

The "Blessing of the Diocese of Bridgeport from the Air" is one of the many initiatives Knights of Columbus members are providing for their communities in spiritual and charitable ways. READ MORE
